

Veterans Reign in Their Own Parade is the result of a proud collaboration of Rainelle Elementary School students and teachers and well known children's book authors, Martin and Delia Wach. This is a story of patriotism, compassion and how Rainelle, WV opened their homes and hearts to give these veterans the homecoming so many of them never had.

Published by Headline Books, a West Virginia company, this will be the first "School Book" collaboration between Martin and Delia Wach and an elementary school. The Wachs have visited over 300 schools nationwide and currently have four children's books published. They are in the top 2% of best selling children's book authors in America.

Veterans Reign in Their Own Parade will be released Memorial Day weekend, 2007, in Rainelle, WV. Order your copy today from a Rainelle Elementary School student and help them raise funds to improve their school. The Wachs and the students will be on hand to sign books on Memorial Day weekend.
